

The NEW/REVISED

Children's Bluebird Activity Book

Bluebird groups across North America have wanted a resource to use when educating grade school age children. Mountain Bluebird Trails new "Children's Bluebird Activity Book" was created with that purpose in mind. The printed version is 8 1/2"x 11" in size and written at the 4th grade level. Parents, grandparents and teachers can read it to young children and older kids will enjoy the puzzles, quizzes and fascinating facts. The beautiful pictures, stories and pictures to color will entertain kids of all ages. The entire book can be found on MBT's website mountainbluebirdtrails.com and any and all pages can be printed so the quizzes, puzzles and coloring pages can be used many times by several children. MBT hopes your organization will find the book helpful in educating children in your area.

MBT would like to thank Myrna Pearman and Pauline Mousseau, for writing and designing the book, and a special thanks also goes to the California Bluebird Recovery Program and the New York State Bluebird Society for their help and cooperation by providing information and pictures of eastern and western bluebirds and to Julie Zickefoose for writing the Forward. The California Bluebird Recovery Program also made a very generous contribution towards producing the book.

The book has been dedicated to Art Aylesworth, founder of Mountain Bluebird Trails and Don Yoder, founder of the California Bluebird Recovery Program. Both men were great believers in educating adults and children about the conservation of bluebirds and other cavity nesting birds. This book was created for that purpose.

You can view the book on the MBT website mountainbluebirdtrails.com and use the order form below to order copies. Buy extra copies for gifts to children or educators you know.
